the most delicate children. It is pleasant to take, has three effective med-

MATTERS INTERESTING WESTERLY

Discussion of Billboard Law—Forty-third Anniversary of the Wreck of the Metis Recalled—No Vote on License This Year—Lincoln B. Kinney Dead—Stubborn Fire in Block Owned and Occupied by the Westerly Furniture Company

Westerly is interested in the new law in regard to billboard advertising, the question having been raised and discussed at the regular meeting of the town council and resulted in the removal of movie picture billboards from the Pawcatuck bridge. It was inferred at that meeting that such a line of advertising could not prevail in private property, even with the consent of the owner, but that the property owner could advertise his own business, but not the business of others. This inference was not correct, as shown by the law which will be in effect September 1. The law relating to advertising on the public highways, on the property of another, provides first for the preservation of milestones, signboards, danger signs, or other signs placed lawfully within the highway, and then continues:

"A person who, in any manner paints, prints, places, puts or affixes, or causes to be printed, painted, placed or affixed, business or commercial advertisement, on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, building or other object which is the property of another, without first obtaining the written consent of such owner thereof, or in any manner paints, prints, places, puts or affixes, or causes to be printed, painted, placed or affixed, such an advertisement on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, milestone, danger sign, danger signal, guide post, billboard, building or other object within the limits of a public highway is punishable by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25 or by imprisonment for not more than ten days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any advertisement in or upon a public highway in violation of the provisions of this act may be taken down, removed or destroyed by anyone."

The law relating to the sale of cold storage eggs, will also be in effect on next Wednesday. The law provides that an egg which has been artificially cooled for thirty days or more to a temperature of forty degrees, shall be a cold storage egg, and must be sold and delivered in containers marked "cold storage eggs." Any violation of the law is punishable by a fine of from $10 to $100 for each offence. The food and drug commission is given the power to enforce the law.

Monday was the forty-third anniversary of the wreck of the steamer Metis, off Watch Hill, and created as much local interest as did the sinking of the Joy Line steamer Larchmont in the same vicinity, February 12, 1907.

The schooner, which was the schooner Harry Knowlton, which drifted ashore at Quonsetpoint.

The Metis when on a trip from New York to Providence, collided with a schooner off Watch Hill and sank a short time thereafter. A severe storm prevailed and the steamer was struck by the schooner about abreast of the pilot house. The captain sent the mates below to investigate and they reported no serious damage. The Metis continued on her way, but after a few minutes the engineers reported that the steamer was rapidly filling with water. The Metis was immediately headed for shore, but sank in deep water within half an hour.

The life boats were lowered and filled with passengers, but many were left aboard the sinking steamer. There were about 150 passengers and forty perished. Some fifty passengers on the upper deck, which broke loose and drifted in the tempestuous sea, to the beach about half a mile east of Watch Hill lighthouse. Others were rescued from floating wreckage by boats that went out from Watch Hill.

Rev. Albert B. Cristy, who came from Cleveland, Ohio, to Providence, in 1899, is the senior state superintendent for continued service in the Anti-Saloon league work in the United States. During Mr. Cristy's administration, these amendments have been made to the liquor laws through the efforts of the league:

Limiting the number of licenses in each town or city to one for each 500 inhabitants, counting both wholesale and retail licenses; this at once cut 429 licensed places. A druggist law was framed forbidding the possession of two quarts of intoxicating liquors, unless licensed to sell. A successful enforcement of the Sunday law enabled the league to add to prohibited days Christmas, Labor Day, and election days. Sales to intoxicated persons were forbidden. Saloons are not allowed within 200 feet of public or parochial schools. Taverns and restaurants that might also hold a liquor license were so defined as to check the abuse of the added privileges such places had previously as ordinary saloons. Licenses were made responsible for suffering any of the laws to be violated within their licensed premises or any premises under their control. License fees were increased. Clubs were placed directly under the control of licensing bodies. Soliciting and peddling of liquors were forbidden. Automatic vote on license was imposed on every town and city when the vote for general officers is taken, thus giving referendum on state-wide prohibition at regular periods.

The total vote in the state shows 45,000 in favor of license, 21,000 opposed to license and over 50,000 too indifferent to vote on the license question.

Fire broke out about 7 o'clock Monday evening in the block owned and occupied by the Westerly Furniture company. The Green Trading Stamp company has a store on the first floor with the furniture company. On the second floor are Marie Malnati, dressmaker, and the offices of the Westerly Ice company.

A storehouse in the rear of the block was filled with mattresses and these blazed up from some unknown cause, making a dangerous blaze.

The whole fire department, including both steamers, was called out and worked for two hours to get the fire under control.

The storehouse was completely destroyed. The main portion of the block was principally damaged by smoke and water.

The loss could not be accurately estimated Monday evening, but is said to be covered by insurance.

Local Lacerations.

No state election, therefore no vote on the license question in Westerly this year.

Boys Will Be Boys, the comedy photoplay, taken in Westerly, was produced in a local playhouse, Monday, and liberally patronized.

Businessmen are preparing to comply with the conditions to the new jitney ordinances, and to test its constitutionality later on, perhaps.

Miss Hope Barber of Lafayette street, and Mrs. Wayland Lewis of Ashaway, are guests at the home of Charles B. Coon, 4 Elm street.

This is District Nurse Red Letter day in Westerly, and the red letters distributed last week will be delivered.
This is a substitute for Tag day.

With a troupe of movies of the Essex company and a theatrical troupe in rehearsal at the Billen house, Westerly has its full quota of actresses and actors.

Lincoln B. Kinney, formerly a New Haven road foreman at Westerly, died Sunday in New Haven. He was a member of Gracie Camp, Modern Woodmen of America.

William Dodge, of Providence, who has been spending a vacation at Block Island, and at the home of his father, Edward M. Dodge, in Westerly, returned Monday to Providence.

The republican state control committee now issues monthly and nicely the magazine, The Record, which is devoted to the advancement of the public party, especially in Rhode Island.

The Westerly baby boy was three weeks old, direct from a New London hospital, and the father took the baby boy's brother, eight years of age, to see the new arrival. "There," said the father, "is your new little brother," and this dialogue ensued: "Where you get him?" "Bought him." "How much did you pay for him?" "O, about $100." "Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, $100 for that little guy, and you wouldn't pay out $22.50 for a bicycle, for me?"

—and the Cadillac "Eight" stands all alone

Do you wish to know how good a car this new Cadillac is?
Follow your own thoughts.
You will find that you are thinking what the nation is thinking.
Look back a little bit.
A few years ago the storm raged around the Cadillac.
A dozen or more cars sold at approximately the same price.
All claimed equality with the Cadillac.
The Cadillac field was the converted field—because it was a quality field.
These dozen or more cars struggled to find a place in it, because they were eager to share in Cadillac success.
And, now, how do things stand?
A limited market above the Cadillac in price—and a large market below.
And in the center, as solid as a rock, the great Cadillac clientele—greater, and stronger, and more solid than ever.
When you search for a car to compare with the Cadillac do you look downward?
It is not likely.
And yet many a man in past years has thought that he was buying a car as good as the Cadillac, because he was paying an approximate price.
He cannot think that now, because these cars have removed themselves from the Cadillac field.
The storm that once raged around the Cadillac still rages,—but it is in another zone. The Cadillac is out of it, and above it.
In its own great quality class the Cadillac stands alone—all alone.
The Cadillac owner does not believe that its equal exists.
And if you are looking for its equal—where will you look?
You must first find a car of equally fine construction.
If you search for equality with the Cadillac, where else will you find such workmanship?

Again—in your search for a car equal to the Cadillac, you must find a car of equal experience in V-type engine construction.
The Cadillac has brought the V-type principle to a state of comparative perfection in the building of 13,000 V-type eight cylinder cars.
Where will you look for a like experience—for equal certainty—for such positive insurance?
What is the utmost you desire in a car?
Your friend who owns a Cadillac already has it. He cannot think of any respect in which its efficiency could be improved.
In freedom from gear shifting, in ease of control, in swift acceleration, in hill climbing ability in comfort and luxury, in all the things which contribute to ideal motoring, the Cadillac owner will tell you that he has them in superlative degree.
In his mind—in your mind—in the mind of the nation—is not the standing of the Cadillac absolutely fixed?
In all the things which constitute quality—the highest known quality—is it not universally accepted as a standard?
Your choice therefore, is rendered simpler than ever before.
You are freed from the distraction of many claims of equality which may once have confused you.
You know what the Cadillac offers:
—engineering pre-eminence,
—and social pre-eminence, —unequaled V-type experience, —the enthusiastic endorsement of 13,000 owners, —mechanical construction representing the highest type of fine manufacturing extant, —and an established record of luxury, long life and endurance.
We repeat—you know that you get these qualities in the Cadillac.
Where else could you get them?
